

Abstract

A CMP slurry pumping system and method which uses the slurry pump inlet pressure as input to the pump controller, and the controller adjusts pump speed to account for variations in inlet pressure.

5